

If the no-call list is weakened, what is the point of having one at all? The last people I want to be bothered by at home are the same banks that are pushing for this. I would like to see Wisconsin make a stand and protect its citizens from this nuisance.